Hello. I present my CV as both an overview of my life's accomplishments and also as a "living document" which is updated over time. As such, my professional audio, forensic media specialist, and academic careers in music technology and the recording arts are long in years and interconnected. I aim to highlight from the present back in time what is most relevant among all.

David Mariasy

Education and Training

1982 Master of Music in Composition with an emphasis in electronic/computer music and the recording arts, College of Musical Arts, Bowling Green State University.

Graduate Assistant for Dr. Burton Berman. Electronic Music and Recording Studio teaching assistant, recording engineer for recital and concert programs.

1979 Bachelor of Arts, Honors Program, The University of Toledo.

My research, education, and training have always included "on-the-job training."

Professional Memberships: Phi Kappa Phi; Pi Kappa Lambda; American Association of University Professors.

Team Audio Inc.

1991 to Present: President, Team Audio Inc.

Team Audio Inc. provides forensic audio and video enhancement services, evidence authentication and transcription services for law enforcement, the legal community, and law firms. We also provide professional audio services for commercial and broadcast applications.

I have a diverse group of associates in professional audio recording, video production, broadcast media, law and criminal justice, acoustic materials testing, investigative services, and information technology

In general, I consider “audio/video forensic services” as relating to legal matters. “Audio restoration” and “audio-enhancement” also refer to contemporary and historic sound recordings of all sorts.

Selected assignments and projects to date:

Pre- 2000 Team Audio Assignments available on request.

The University of Toledo

1982 to Present: I am Senior Lecturer of The Music Department, College of Communications and The Arts.

Currently I am the longest serving faculty member of both the UT Lecturers Group and all Departments within UT CoCA.

I have Associate II Membership status in the UT Graduate Faculty.

I direct the Music Technology and the Recording Arts Minor and manage all Recital and Concert performances offered by The Music Department. I have a student staff of several undergraduate and graduate students.

These students have all studied with me in Music Technology and Recording Arts.

My other professional activities include management of facility lab and recording spaces, the maintenance and upgrade of equipment and computer hardware and software. I represent the Music Department for annual Information Technology budgets and requested funding.

Specific recital and concert recordings of the Music Department and other CoCA Departments et al are listed below in my Audiomatrix Recording Studios profile. These entries differ in degree from the general department concert schedule.

Audiomatrix Recording Studios

1982 to Present: Founder and Director, Audiomatrix Recording Studios.

Currently, I am only working with a small group of musical recording artists and also advertising, video production, and broadcast clients.

Additionally, I use my recording studio for smaller UT Music Department Advanced Classes in Music Technology and Recording, Senior Interns and other CoCA related productions.

Professional Audio Recording Activity: Over many years to now Audiomatrix produces audio and music content of all sorts. A very fortunate and chance set of circumstances led me to begin working with the late radio legend Mr. Bob Martz.

I became Mr. Martz' Recording Engineer and Producer of radio spots for many advertising and marketing agencies. Networking and commitment led to studio production assignments both local and national.

Here are a cross section of production and broadcast companies, product brand names, Institutions, and so forth:

The Samaritan's Purse; Leo Burnett; The Mudd Group; Ross Roy; WTOL TV11 CBS Toledo; W.B. Doner; Sony Music; Video Artists International; The Toledo Symphony; The Pat Dailey Show, The Toledo Museum of Art, The Diocese of Toledo Sunday Catholic Mass.
